

Principal Resource Geologist - Melbourne

Mining One Job Description – Principal Resource Geologist

Role:	Principal Resource Geologist
Location:	Melbourne
Reporting to:	Geology Manager
Qualifications:	Bachelor of Science Degree majoring in Geology or similar
Years of Experience:	Minimum 10 years' experience
Mandatory Licenses:	Australian Driver's Licence
Responsibilities:	Report writing, project management and technical experience with linear and non-linear resource estimation methods. To complete the tasks and responsibilities of a Principal Resource Geologist. To manage and provide expert technical capability in relation to linear and non-linear resource estimation, report writing and due diligence project technical support. Completion of general Geological work as required. More specifically the role will require; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Provide resource estimation capabilities including all aspects of technical work required to complete a JORC or NI43-101 resource estimate ➤ Sign off as Competent (Qualified) Person for both JORC and NI43-101 estimates ➤ Review and auditing of drilling and sampling datasets ➤ Review and auditing of resource estimates ➤ Completion of due diligence reviews on projects both within Australia and internationally ➤ Marketing and promotion of the Mining One services as required
Key Performance Areas:	Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Completion of allocated tasks within the time frame and budget set for the task. ➤ Co-operation and communication with other staff. ➤ Adherence to Quality and OHS procedures. ➤ Report compilation to a high standard for the purposes of public disclosure and/or internal confidential applications.